INVITATION

Preventing and Countering Terrorist Use of Unmanned Aircraft Systems: Good Practices and Trends in the Acquisition, Weaponization, and Deployment of UAS

UNOCT's AROS Programme and Conflict Armament Research will discuss their "Global Report on the Acquisition, Weaponization, and Deployment of Unmanned Aircraft Systems by Non-State Actors for Terrorism-Related Purposes". This report highlights overarching trends, emerging threats, and priority concerns held by UN Member States.

The event will provide an executive summary and offer key conclusions of the Global Report before bringing together different stakeholders from Member States, academia, and the private sector to discuss key challenges, opportunities, experiences, and good practices for preventing and countering the terrorist use of UAS in the panel discussion "Priorities and the Way Forward".
